

Hants police award NViro

NViro has recently been awarded a major cleaning contract with the Hampshire Constabulary.

In late January 2007, NViro took over the cleaning of 51 police establishments throughout the county including 40 police stations, the Constabulary's Headquarters in Winchester and Training Centre in Netley.

Stephen MacDonald, NViro's Sales and Marketing Director, said: "I am absolutely delighted that after many years of cleaning police stations on the Isle of Wight, NViro has been awarded the contract to work with Hampshire Constabulary on such a large scale on the mainland.

"Clearly there are many challenges in cleaning police buildings which do not normally apply to regular office or school cleaning and the mobilisation process itself was a fairly complex task involving 12 staff from different departments at NViro's Head Office in Portsmouth.

"We now look forward to delivering the highest standards of cleaning to the Constabulary over the next three years."

Source: Hampshire Constabulary