

New MD at NViro

NViro has strengthened its Board structure with the appointment of Brian Warren as Managing Director and Chris Howells as Chairman.

Brian replaces Chris as MD at a time when NViro is broadening its client base in the education, local government and commercial sectors.

Commenting on his plans to take NViro forward, the new MD said: "My aim is to deliver a cleaning service that makes the customer feel 'this company is different; it does what it says and more'. By constantly driving forward with service innovation, delivering on all promises and clearly identifying customers needs, we will exceed customer expectations and deliver a cleaning service that is second to none."

He added that by focusing on customer needs, NViro can achieve its target of 10% growth year on year, increasing turnover from £7m to more than £10m by 2009.

A qualified Chartered Accountant, Brian worked in the manufacturing industry and for an accountancy practice before joining NViro in 1999 as a Commercial Accountant. Prior to becoming MD, he combined the two roles of Finance Director and Deputy Managing Director. He will continue as Finance Director in his new post.

Brian Warren - Managing Director

Chris Howells takes on the position of NViro Chairman in addition to his role as Group Managing Director of The Quarr Group.
